The Makers of the LA VICTORIA® Brand Debut New Line of Fresh and Flavorful Organic Salsas

Leading Pioneer of Jarred Salsas Unveils Delicious Organic Innovations

ORANGE, Calif. (July 9, 2019)—Just in time for summer entertaining season, the makers of the LA VICTORIA® brand, the iconic, Southern California-based maker of salsas, taco sauces and enchilada sauces, today announced two new USDA Certified Organic and non-GMO products to its portfolio—Organic Chunky Salsa Mild and Organic Chunky Salsa Medium.

Delivering the same authentic Mexican flavors as its original salsa varieties, the new organic line now meets a growing consumer demand for organically sourced foods. High-quality USDA Organic ingredients boasting aromatic herbs and spices with tomatoes picked at the peak of ripeness will add exciting flavor to any snack or meal this summer and beyond.

“We are committed to honoring the brand’s 100-plus years of authentic Mexican tradition while keeping up with today’s trends,” said Tanya Sexton, brand manager for the LA VICTORIA® brand. “Our new Organic Chunky Salsas answer a growing demand for organic options while also satisfying everyday cravings for our longtime favorite pantry staples.”

Available in 16-ounce jars, the new Organic Chunky Salsas are made from high-quality, certified organic ingredients including tomatoes and crisp onions with subtle notes of garlic and a hint of fiery jalapeño pepper. Like the LA VICTORIA® brand’s complete line of salsas, these new versatile offerings embody the modern West Coast lifestyle and can be enjoyed standalone or in creative recipes to spice up any dish.

The new salsas are available in the Mexican food aisle at retailers along the West Coast, including Kroger, Ralph’s, Fred Meyer, Fry’s, Smith’s and King Soopers.
